

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A balancing weight for vehicle wheels, the weight including a body provided with a concavely or convexly curved contact face for resting against a convexly or concavely curved rim part of a wheel, such as a rim flange. The contact face includes a plurality of successive lateral sections which are separated from each other by bends or edges of differently dimensioned curvatures.